Developed by Head Marco, this handy little tool is great to use in combination with the online first-person shooter game, Garena Free Fire. Unlike the default options found in the general settings that Free Fire offers players, Ruok FF Auto Headshot lets you customize your weapon handling even further. White444 Dpi One Tap Shot is a similar third-party app that you can add to your arsenal. Easy aimingWhen it comes to frenetic online multiplayer games such as shooters, your accuracy is highly crucial in the heat of battle. Whether its in the first-person or third-person perspective, you need to be able to hit your opponents, at the very least. This aspect usually treads into your own skills as a player but half of the time, the games controls themselves contribute to whether you can easily land a hit or not. This is all the more true for FPS games played on mobile devices such as PUBG and Fortnite, wherein you have to aim and shoot while keeping yourself alive from enemy fire. Most of the time, you will just have to configure the controls and touch sensitivity to your preferences and play stylea required habit if you are playing on supported controllers, too. However, most games only offer general settings and very little granular control. Meanwhile, Ruok FF Auto Headshot can customize each weapons settings. Take note that this app actually only works for Free Fire. To use the app, simply launch it, configure the settings, and run the game. It can enhance weapon sensitivity to the point of easily doing automatic headshots. However, this type of app may get you in trouble in bigger matches. Plus, itll ask for permission to install from unknown sources.Practice makes perfectWhile using Ruok FF Auto Headshot can give you an edge with automatic headshots, nothing still beats winning the game with pure skills and perseverance and without resorting to third-party apps. As with any endeavor, it takes hours of practice and hard work to improve your headshot accuracy. If youre feeling a little overwhelmed, you can adjust the sensitivity settings to your skill level and work your way up.A bit risky to useAll in all, Ruok FF Auto Headshot is a nice little utility with a lot of benefits but it also comes with risks. While it can greatly help with your accuracyespecially if youre a player whos not used to FPS gameplay at allit can get your account banned if you use the Auto Headshot feature in matches that give out bigger rewards. Plus, it will require you to allow installation from unknown sources. Skip the headshot hacks in Free Fire MAX! They'll get you banned, ruin the fun for everyone, and expose your device to danger. Free Fire MAX is an exhilarating battle royale game enjoyed by millions worldwide. The rush of adrenaline as you navigate the shrinking battlefield, outsmart opponents, and claim that coveted Booyah victory is unmatched. But the thrill of fair play and hard-earned skill is often tarnished by the temptation of shortcuts like headshot hacks and mods. The player count of Free Fire has seen a massive upsurge ever since its debut globally. The numbers have not stopped growing as Garena's flagship battle royale shooter has become the third-ever game to hit one billion installs on the Google Play Store. However, the in-game difficulty level has also enhanced. Beginners find it harder to rank up considering the experienced users' skill-set these days. Character abilities help survive, but it boils down to an individual's skill level that earns them victory. Hence, grinding hard in the BR mode becomes essential to acquire experience.However, these days, many gamers are using unjust means like headshot hack mods to improve their in-game capabilities unfairly. These modified APK files are more widely available on the internet these days, which has made their usage quite frequent in Free Fire, but they are illegal and can lead to permanent bans. Garena Free Fire headshot hack mods: How can they lead to permanent bans?The modified game clients allow hackers to optimize various functions to get an unfair benefit (Image via GAMING MAMUN/YouTube)Headshot hack mods are modified APK game clients that help players use the aimbot. The hack will allow them to hit clean headshots effortlessly while also letting users adjust several other settings. According to Garena's policy mentioned in "Ban Notice" on their website, gamers' accounts will get suspended if they are:"Using modified or unauthorized game client."Additionally, the account will face a ban if they are found:"Modifying model files to gain unfair advantages."Garena's Ban Notice section (Image via Garena)Hence, users must avoid using any game mod that Garena has not authorized. The ban will block their accounts and ensure they cannot use another account on the same device (device ban). Gamers must also avoid the following hacks if they find any on the internet:Wall hackDiamond hackJump hackSpeed hackRecoil hackAmmo hackUnlimited gloo wall hackAdditionally, they should report fellow players during matches if they suspect any unfair gameplay. They will need the screenshots and screen recording as proof, which they can submit after a Free Fire match. About the author Quick LinksEdited by Ravi Iyer You cant perform that action at this time.
