There was always so much to do and so much to think about. I couldn't relax and I couldn't focus. During my college years the worrying turned into anxiety. After graduating I channeled my endless energy into becoming an entrepreneur and found myself suffering from even more anxiety. I was prescribed Ritalin and Adderall, but I wouldn't take them. There had to be a better way. One day, I made a simple checklist to organize the chaos in my mind and for the first time I felt relaxed, organized and focused. So, I started making more checklists. The more checklists I made, the less anxiety I felt. Think of checklists as a plugin for the mind. They help us remember and organize the endless list of things we have to do and want to do. I founded Checkli so I could share my love of checklists with the world. Sincerely, Marvin, Founder of Checkli Discover, save, and complete free education checklist templates.
