If you have a few minutes to spare, hang out in our Arcade, or grab a bite to eat in our Shell We Eat Café! Safety is Our #1 PriorityBouncing on a trampoline is an inherently dangerous activity and can be categorized as an action or extreme sport. It is important for participants to follow set rules and safety guidelines, and to bounce within their own ability.At Shell We Bounce Trampoline Park, we want all of our bouncers to have fun and be safe!Staff members perform daily and weekly equipment and maintenance checks to ensure all equipment is functioning properly and that there are no rips, holes, or tears in the trampoline beds or padding.Staff members also enforce strict adherence to our rules and reserve the right to remove guests from further bouncing in our facility if they are acting in a way that may endanger themselves or others. KE Keith Williams Trampoline park! My daughter loves it here. Well-staffed, and seemed to take as many precautions as possible for safety. Keep in mind trampolines are inherently dangerous, but they have thorough education. Prices seem fair, although Id appreciate it if you could add time. At the time Im writing this, its $10 for 30 minutes, $15 for an hour. We didnt know if shed want to do a full hour, but we had to choose at the start. She did a half hour, and if we wanted to do the other half, it would be another $10. Seems like a bit of an arbitrary limitation. They also have an arcade, which includes the main one I care about: Worlds Largest Pac-Man. 10ft screen, 2 player co-op. DA David Steven They moved locations and failed to post an obvious note on the old building or their website. Checking into the new location is a 3-step process and a disaster - took 20 minutes to check in and pay (the opposite of user friendly). Mens room does not have a changing table nor is there a family bathroom. The toddler area was under construction despite website touting it. The remaining area is trampoline stations that are very cool, but we expected more (larger) play space. GI Gil Landau Its an affordable place to let the kids run around and bounce. It has all the basic amenities and wifi too. While all the bounce houses all look new, the place where its housed looks a bit worn down. The ceiling looks like it leaks and chairs are used to block access in certain places. They sell affordable weekly and monthly passes but my kids didnt want to go back after going twice in one week. TR tracey justin The place is dated, buckets on the floor collecting a leaky roof and cheap plastic furniture. Nothing really neat about it. just somebodys money maker. We have been a few times on toddler Tuesday, 10 bucks for two hours is a good deal. The one girl who is always there is very attentive and polite. MA Mary Tait Not open on a Tuesday during their regular posted business hours. Very disappointing on a rainy day with a 3 year old. No sign on door and no indication on website that it would be closed. Other parents with kids were showing up and looking disappointed it was closed, too. ME Melissa Smith Moved with no notice on the website or on the answering machine. We tried to take our kids here in a rainy day and were among a hand full of vehicles circling the lot in confusion. Terrible communication and a waste of our time. JE Jenn Bradford Kids from walking age up to teenagers all have fun here. Staff is awesome. Its clean. They have massage chairs for the grown ups. Its an all around win BR Bret Carr Awesome place to take your kids. It feels a bit too much like an empty Knart with bouncy equipment though. Lots of room to sea your kids out. KY Kyle B My only real complaint? No comfortable seating for parents outside of lawn chairs. ... Or alcohol, but I can improvise on that front. CL Claire Powell German The owners really ought to post on their website that the Rehoboth location is closing and in the process of moving to Lewes. BR Brandon Peaker Place is good for young toddlers jus make sure you bring socks.. They waited a half hour to tell me my kids needed socks JA Jason McKinney Great place to wear out the copious amounts of energy your children have. Highly recommended this place. JI Jim Derrick Great place to take your kids. They got a great exercise and had fun doing it. AN andrew orth As of today the wipeout is currently out of order but the rest is pretty fun. CH Christopher DeCruze Four bounce houses, all large to ridiculously large. Plus toys. Kids love. KR Kristen Frost Its big and fun for the kids. The prices are a little too steep. MA Maria-Eugenia Delaware Best place to jump around when the weathers too hot or too cool JU Justin Lennon Kids had a blast, even fun for us grownups. Definitely be back JO Joseph Ezy Great entertainment for the kids. Well kept and clean area AL Alex Faust Great for all ages. Friendly helpful staff, IA Ian Crandall Date night go off babysitting was great! ZA Zach Naar Was good but needs more if a variety JA Jamshed Khan Expensive and alright JO JoJo Dancer These guys love kids! The new, much larger Shell We Bounce near Lewes is a kids' dream come true. But there is a larger secret slowly getting out - there are no age restrictions for the trampoline park. "We've had three generations of our family here bouncing," says owner Julie Derrick. Shell We Bounce Trampoline Park left its Forgotten Mile location in Rehoboth Beach two weeks ago, opening on Route 9 not far from Five Points. Julie said she and her husband, Jim, wanted to open a trampoline park as soon as they opened the business four years ago. The name is tied to their other family business, the Sea Shell Shop. "We knew that location was always temporary. It took us a while to wrap our head around expansion," Julie said. Deciding on a location was the first hurdle the couple faced. "We had always been tied to Route 1, so moving out here was a risk. But it's turned out to be so much better," she said. The new business is housed in a 26,600-square-foot building on nearly 3 acres. The old bounce house was in a 10,000-square-foot building. More than 50 people are employed at the new park. The group Fun Spot - specializing in trampoline facilities - helped with the design and the best use of the space. "We did a lot of research and attended trade shows. This is Jim's vision - he did all of the heavy lifting," Julie said. Julie said the former Shell We Bounce was popular with families with young children. "Now we're open for the whole family. There are no age restrictions," she said. There is more than fun associated with bouncing on a trampoline, Jim said. Used as a workout, it exercises muscles that are many times neglected. "And it burns 1,000 calories an hour," he said. A Kids Zone, cafe, arcade with prizes and bounce house for infants - the only remaining piece of equipment from the former business - are all part of the large facility. The Kids Zone features a multi-level climbing structure. The new park includes a large dodge-ball area, bouncing basketball courts, jumping areas, numerous trampolines, a large foam pit and the Wipe-Out area with trampolines and moving bars to jump over, one of the favorite activities. Jim says technically the business is still undergoing a soft opening, but they were hit hard with enthusiastic families over the Labor Day weekend. Shell We Bounce is open Sunday to Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Friday and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. The cost is based on 30-minute bouncing times. In order to enter, all parents or legal guardians - and not grandparents or other relatives - must sign a new waiver. First-timers must also watch a safety video on rules for using the trampolines. Julie says the complete schedule of programs is a work in progress, but many of the favorite programs offered at the former location will continue. Storytime will take place on Fridays, and Mamatot fitness classes will be offered on Wednesdays. Discounts will be offered on Tuesdays to families with toddlers and on Wednesdays to families with special-needs children. Parties can also be booked at the new facility. For more information or to register, go to shellwebounce.com or phone 302-727-5416. Julie, a former teacher, is a member of the Cape Henlopen School District Board of Education, and husband Jim is co-owner of the Sea Shell Shop on Route 1 near Rehoboth Beach. He is a former All-American lacrosse player who as a senior in 1998 at Cape Henlopen High School, helped win the school's first state lacrosse championship. The couple lives in Rehoboth Beach with their three children, Harper, Olivia and James. Please NoteWe open daily at 10:00am. Bounce Time slots begin every 30 minutes. Arrive before your desired bounce time to sign the waiver and get settled. If you have a few minutes to spare, hang out in our Arcade, or grab a bite to eat in our Shell We Eat Café!
