Academy of cosmetic dentistry

The American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry (AACD) is committed to advancing excellence in cosmetic dentistry while upholding high ethical standards and patient care. The AACD achieves this by providing top-notch educational opportunities, supporting a respected credential, fostering knowledge-sharing, and delivering accurate information. The latest issue of the Journal of Cosmetic Dentistry has been released, featuring case studies on transformative restorative treatments that prioritize esthetic excellence. This edition showcases the importance of thoughtful planning, conservative techniques, and collaborative artistry in creating life-changing outcomes for patients. Key highlights include:

- * A CE course on simplified impression technique
- * A cover feature on lab communication for esthetic excellence
- * An interview with Dr. Gregory A. Kinzer on treating worn dentition
- * Composite layering class IV fracture repair using nature as a guide

The AACD would like to express its gratitude to valued sponsors Clinician's Choice, Glidewell, Ivoclar, and MicroDental Laboratories for their continued support. Their partnership enables the AACD to deliver world-class education and resources to its members and the dental community. New in AACD Central is the course "Reimaging Digital Dentistry: Integrating Orthodontic and Restorative Treatments" presented by Jennifer Bell, DDS. This free course is available to AACD members and explores strategies for minimally invasive restorative treatments that prioritize tooth preservation and utilize orthodontic movement when possible. We are pleased to announce that all our attendees have received their CEUs, which were submitted to AGD on your behalf. You can access your verification certificate by following these steps: - Go to AACD Member Login and log in using your login information - Click on Print Scientific Session CEUs - Select AACD 2024 National Harbor and click Go - A PDF will open, allowing you to save. To become a Full Member, simply click here and follow the process - no extra cost involved. As a Full Member, you can use our "BACD Full Member" logo once you're signed up for direct debit membership and include a link to our site on your website. If you're ready to take it to the next level as an Accredited Member, click here to learn more about the accreditation process. As an Accredited Member, you can use our "BACD Accredited Member" logo once you've met all the necessary criteria and are signed up for direct debit membership. Fellowship of the BACD is the highest honor in cosmetic dentistry, allowing Accredited Members to demonstrate excellence in treatment planning and execution. To learn more about becoming a Fellow, click here. Finally, if you're unsure about joining or want to try us out, our "Non-Membership" level costs £1 and grants access to regional meetings for £199 per meeting. As a potential member, you can easily upgrade to the Associate Member level by emailing us. The "Non-Membership" option costs £1 and is available to all dental staff, allowing them to attend regional meetings for £199 per meeting and other events at a higher rate. To become an Accredited Technician, you'll need to demonstrate your skills in treating various clinical problems, including gaining valid consent, prescribing post-treatment maintenance, planning and producing high-quality restorations, and delivering cosmetic dentistry through excellent communication skills. The accreditation process involves submitting anonymous clinical cases with before-and-after pictures, followed by a Viva examination where candidates will create a treatment plan and answer questions about their methods. Upon successful completion, you'll receive an Accreditation Plaque, allowing you to state that you're an "Accredited Member of the British Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry". The BACD Central Office administers the process, with examiners drawn from Accredited members. If you're unsure about joining, try the "Non-Membership" option to see if it suits you. However, note that this does not qualify you as an Associate Member or allow you to refer to yourself as a BACD member. A platform for connecting professionals in the cosmetic dentistry field has been launched by the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry. For further details, navigate to their website. If you're a patient seeking information on dental services or procedures, click here. A specialized online program called The Dental Dojo offers extensive mentorship and support to individuals who aim to achieve Accreditation or enhance their dental expertise and clinical skills. Registration for the 2026 program is now open. This 12-month masterclass, led by experienced AACD coaches, focuses on developing participants' skills, fostering connections within the dental community, and providing valuable insights from industry experts.
